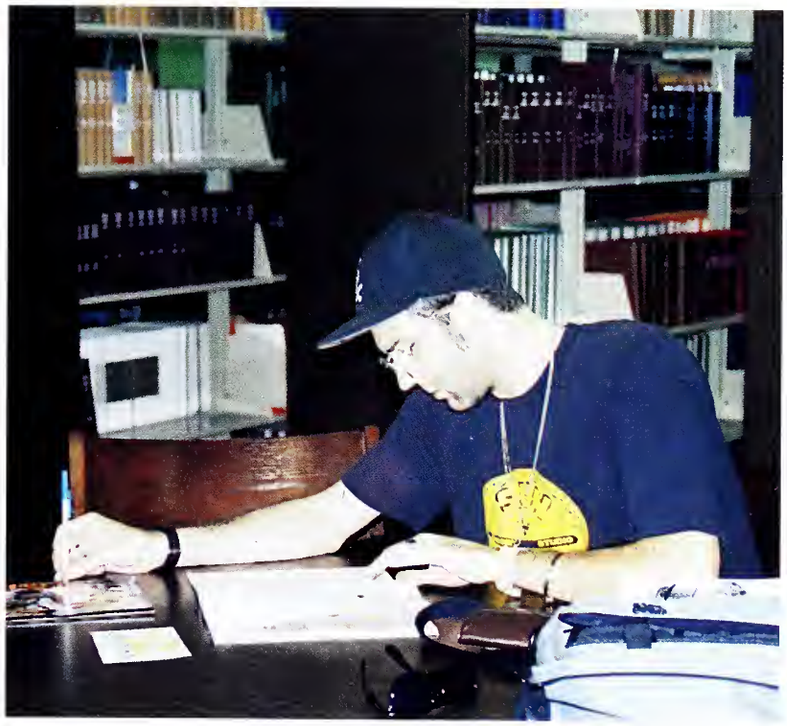
A Day At Coastal



Rocktoberfest

Coastal rocks to local bands

As the bands continued to play, the people continued to stay. On Saturday, October 19, the 3rd Annual Rocktoberfest was successfully held by the student run Coastal Productions staff.

With the warm sun shining in the blue cloudless sky, the band Speedbumps kicked off the day at 11:30. As the already beautiful day became even more perfect, the bands Phineas Gage and October Chorus continued to draw in a large crowd of students, faculty, family and friends. By 3:00, the renowned band of Edwin McCain brought in the largest crowd.

Many clubs and organizations became involved in the festivities through selling hamburgers, cookies, raffle tickets, and Rocktoberfest T-shirts. Jason Plafcon, Coastal Productions Coordinator said that " We were trying to get the entire campus involved." It looks like we did! People were seen with parents, pets, footballs, and frisbees. All in all, Rocktoberfest was a huge success!

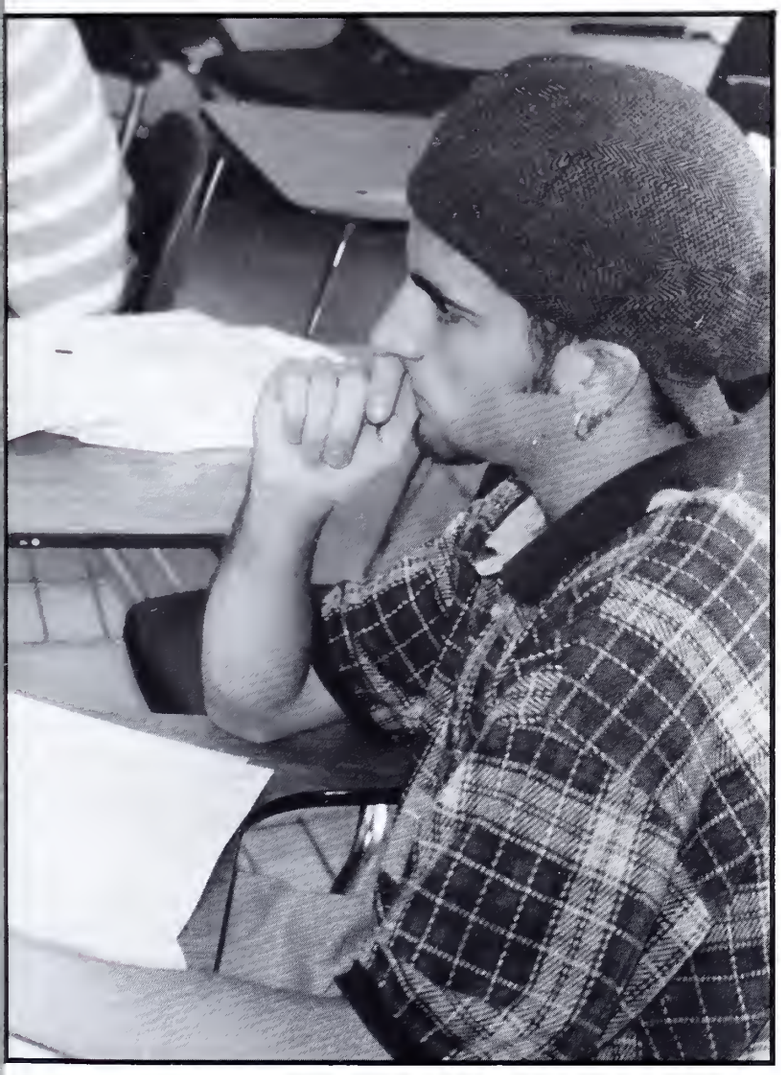
Money Managment

Mom, Send Me More Money!

One of the most important things students have to learn when they go away to college is money management. It is very hard for Coastal students to keep up with their financial situations with the temptations of the beach and other forms of entertainment. However, they must try to count their quarters for those weekly laundry days or late night sodas.

Fortunately, the Myrtle Beach/ Conway area provides many job opportunities for that extra spending money. There are also many on-campus jobs for which students would not need a car or have to worry about gas money. Some students prefer not to get a job the first semester so that the work schedule won't interfere with their studies, while they rely on their parents back home to send money ASAP. The on-campus ATM provides the convenience of quick cash 24/7. For all students, saving money is very important for such things as text books, groceries, entertainment, clothes, gas, and the infamous all-nighter pizzas.



Fashion
At Coastal, It's Whatever !

Making a fashion statement is not a top priority in the day of Coastal students. Most students pick out their clothes according to what is most comfortable regardless of their appearance. You will find the majority wearing t-shirts, sandals, and jeans. Some popular styles include beach gear, in which students wear anything from crop tops to flip flops and "Harvard gear", in which suits, high heels, and preppy dresses clothe Coastal students. However, there are those who continue to enjoy keeping up with the latest fashion trends, such as metallic nail polish, plastic rings, anklets, and toe rings. There are several different kinds of hairstyles on campus as well, ranging from shaved , buzzed, short, to really long on both guys and gals. Not too many students spend a lot of time on their hair. Just wake up and go. But comfort is always in the minds of college students when it comes to hiking across campus.

Local Eateries
Where Should We Go?

With Coastal being located just miles from Myrtle beach, eating establishments are everywhere. One could find anything from a "Cheeseburger in Paradise" to blackened swordfish, chicken and slow roassted pork ribs. There are over 600 restaurants on the Grand Strand; a student could go to a different restaurant everyday for two years without eating at the same place, if time and funds permitted.

Students that do go off campus to eat have their own favorites, Thoroughbreds and Umbertos rank high on the poles. For those on limited funds, which is most of us, like TGI Friday's and T-Bones. And then there are those pinching pennies, Burger King and local pizza deliveriesare all the "out-to-eats" they get.

Eating out is expensive but well worth it. It saves you from dishes and school food.

Food, Food, Glorious Food

Campus Cooking

Food is always in the minds of Coastal students. Since the new cafeteria has been built for the Fall 1996 semester, more students have signed up for the meal plan.

The new cafeteria provides a large variety of home cooked meals. You will find everything from hamburgers and hot dogs to pork fried rice and vegetarian lasagna. The desserts will range from vanilla pudding and brownie surprise to slices of apple pie. However, the absolute, top rated dessert of all Coastal students is the frozen yogurt cone, for which students enjoy perfecting their twists of yogurt.

The Campus Station in the Student Center has continued to be popular among students for personal size pizza, snapples, and garlic breadsticks.

All in all, Coastal students haven't widely complained about the campus cooking. Everyone seems to find something that will meet their taste bud needs.

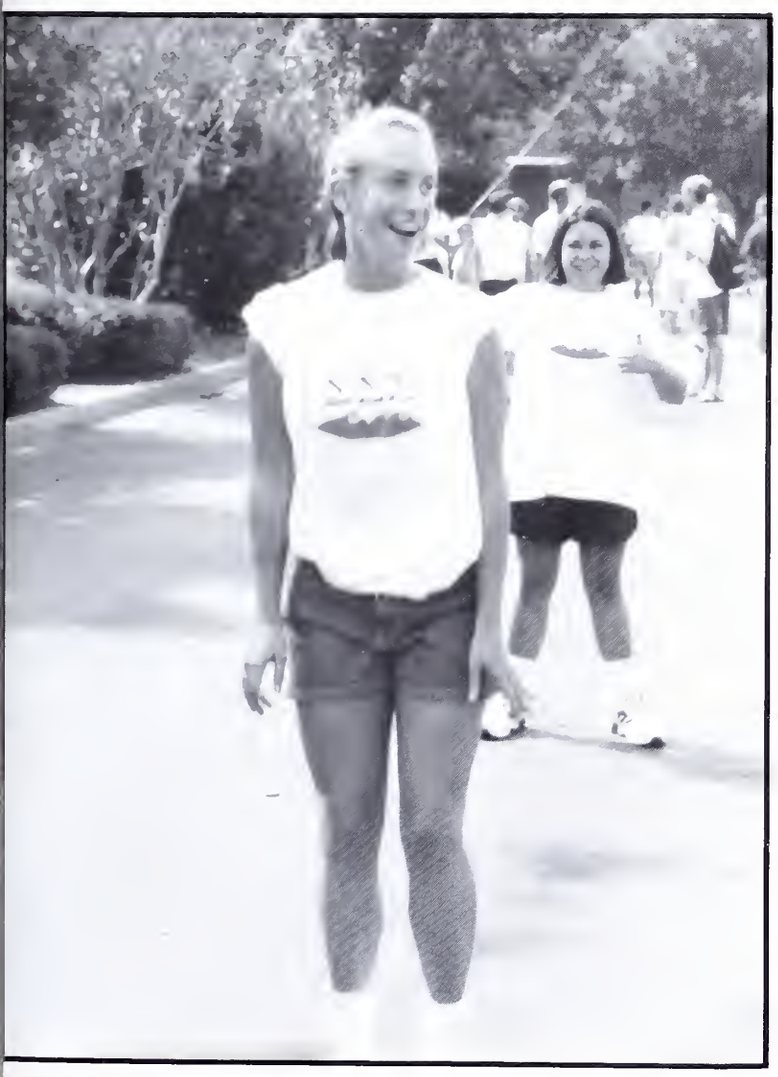
Recycling is a very important environmental issue. Unfortunately the location of the recycle bins at Coastal provides a disadvantage to those who care about their future.

Coastal's recycling bins are on the far side of Dorms A-F. But because these bins are not next to a dumpster, many students are unaware that they can recycle at Coastal.

So the Yearbook Staff has provided an easy to follow map that shows the "Recycling Stumped" the hiding recycle bins. Please deposit your cans and newspapers in the bins and help Coastal Recycle.



Fitness

What a Work of Art!

" What does he or she look like?" is a common question that poeple ask. Most enjoy looking good or looking at people who look good. Some even enjoy being healthy and maintaining good tone. These are some reasons why one might maintain personal fitness.

Each day at Coastal's PE Center, located inside the Williams -Brice Building, one could find faculty and staff, students, or walk-ins all at work on their bodies. Swimming, aerobics, basketball, racketball and weight lifting are only a few of the great fitness programs offered at Coastal. Whether it be for required athletic training or personal pleasure, students take great pride in maintaining a "nice body."

Why do you work out? One student replied, " I consider my body as a work of art, and I just like to keep adding finishing touches on it by working out."

Shakespeare couldn't have said it better himself.

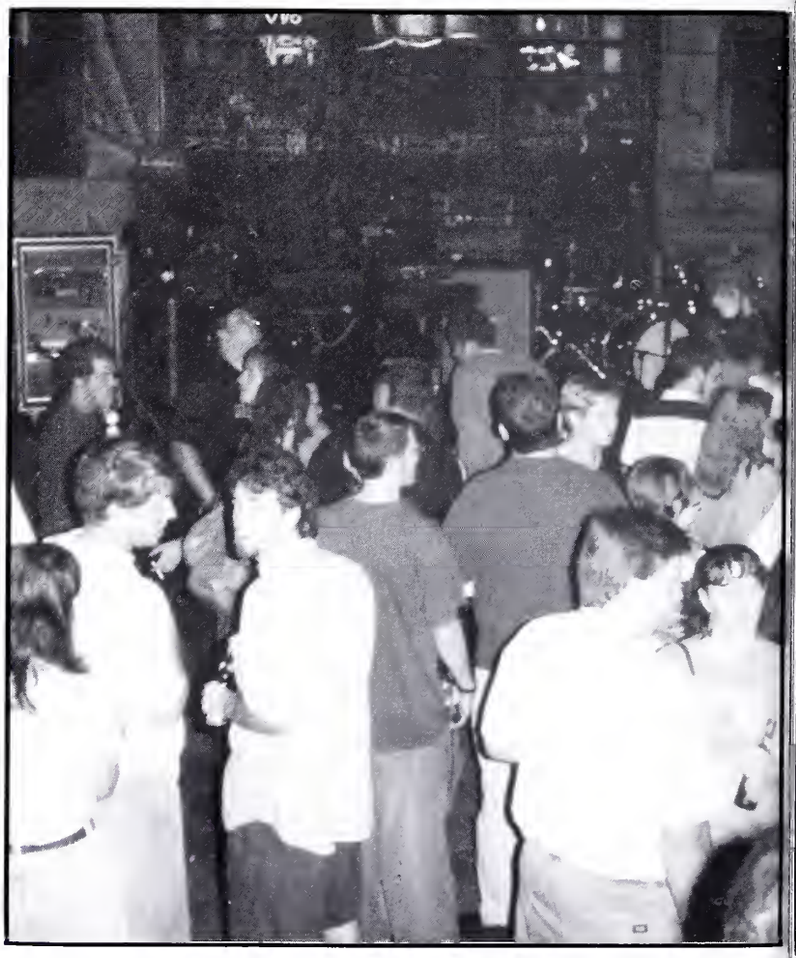
Party Time

Night Life at Coastal

It's Friday night, and where is a college student to go? Well, this is Myrtle Beach, the town for entertainment if you're 18 and over. There are a multitude of clubs to go to: the Headroom, Studebakers, Xanadu's and more, for those of us who want to get crazy and dance after a hard week of classes. It's easy to release and relax. For those who are laid back socializers, there are many bars that will accommodate and help you unwind. Hurricane Cove, Fat Tuesday's and The Parrot just to name a few. Then the Country folk like the Beach Wagon and Cowboy's to let go, dance, and have fun!

Of course you don't have to go out to have a great time. Staying at home with friends always makes for a good time or a good party. Order some pizza or get take out, rent a movie, plug in the surround sound, and take it easy in front of the old tube.

The most important thing about the weekends and Coastal nightlife is to have a good time and to be safe while partying.

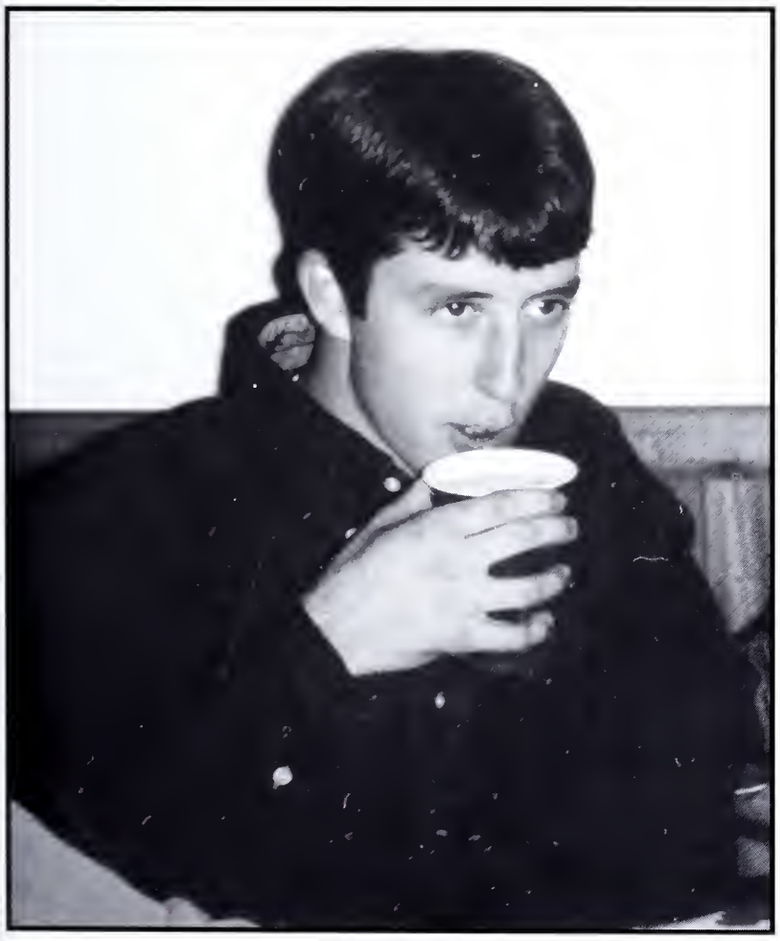


Drink Up or Maybe Not

Can I See Your ID?

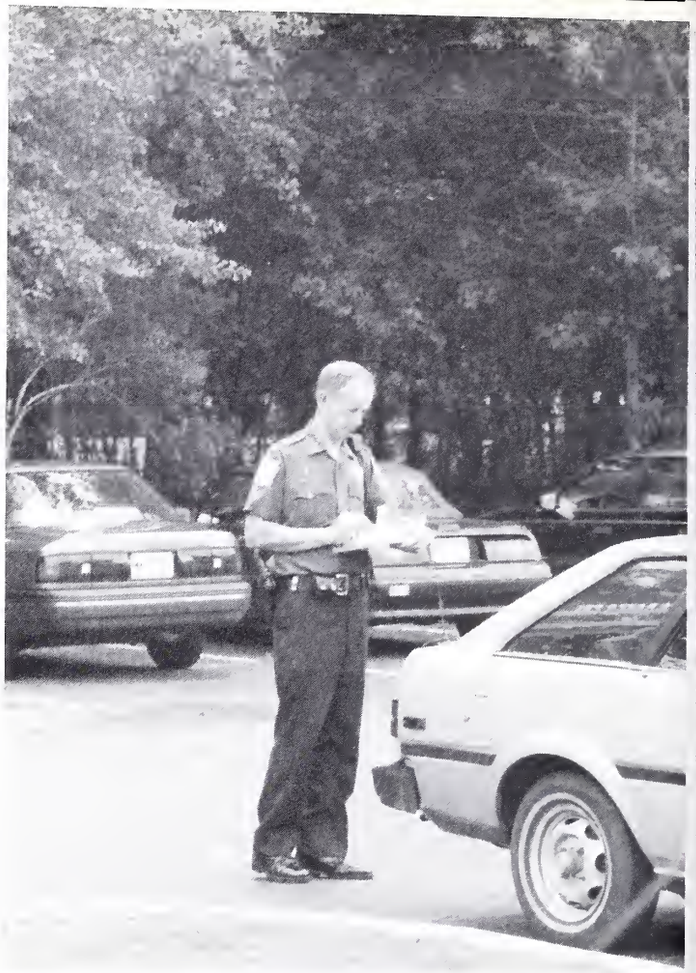
Are you old enough to drink isn't the question. Do you a license that says you are? That's really what they are asking, here in Myrtle Beach clubs and bars. Some places don't even ask for ID's; they just assume you are legal to drink.

What does this mean? If you're 21, good for you, the rest of us will grab our "fakes" and meet you at the bar. Needless to say being under 21 doesn't stop poeple from buying a case of beer or a bottle of Absolut. Why is alcohol so important that we put ourselves at risk every time we break out those " fakes"? Is alcohol that important in our social lives? That's a question you need to ask yourself.



Coastal's Finest

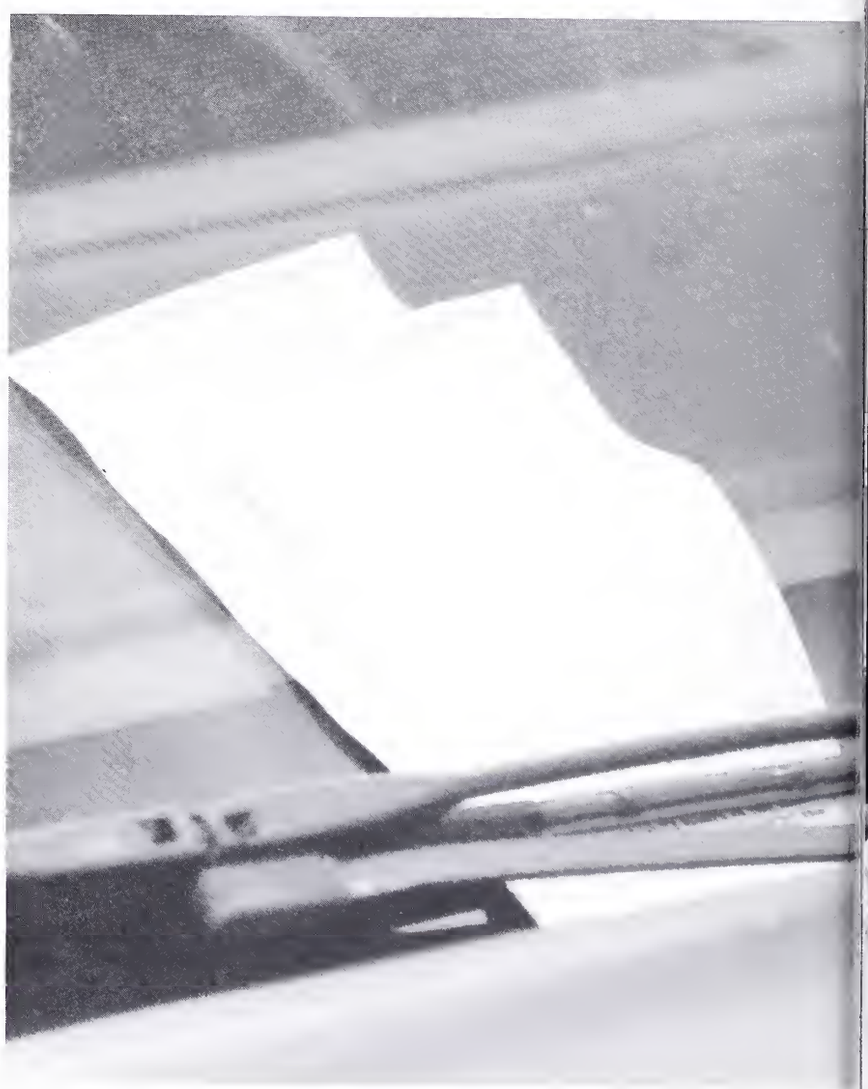
Our Campus Police



It's all about duty and service for the students. Campus police were seen about campus on their new mountain bikes this past year. Some know them for the tickets they received and yet others know them for the outstanding patrolling of the university grounds.

Campus police have a tough job keeping our campus safe. They are responsible for over 900 students in the Resident Halls, not to mention keeping an eye out for the people who don't belong on campus.

The security office is located by the Book Store and is available 24 hours a day. Even though they give unwanted parking tickets they are here for everyone through thick and thin. W e owe them our no thank you's as well as our thank you's.



"When Noah sailed

He had his troubles
same as you.

Can You Find My Car?

Parking Problems

Parking on campus has become a problem in the past few years. With the rise in enrollment and commuting students, parking is hard to find.

Parking stickers are required for all cars parked on campus. If your vehicle does not possess one, get ready for a ticket or two. For those of us who don't want to pay $10 to park, the Baseball Field parking lot is FREE! But, you'll have to walk a mile to your first class.

Those stodents living on campus are not faced with this daily dilema. They can walk to class from the dorms before commuters can find a parking space.

On the Move

Soccer is a sport that strives on team work and the Coastal Carolina Chants have plenty of that. The University brings together great soccer players from all over the country and even the world. Their goal this year was to make it to the Big South Conference Tournament. Many of last years great players would return for another exciting year which makes their goal to the Championships not very far out of reach. The Coastal Carolina Soccer team is strong and on the move. Watch out BIG SOUTH!

That is exactly what the returning champions such as Lori Wilbert, Colette Pawlyk, Melissa Grohs, Autumn Staub, Wendy Kutz and many others are on their way to be the best they can be this coming year. Watch out East Carolina, Charleston and all the rest. Lady Chants are on their way!

Strive For the Best

Coastal's Cross Country teams have become more powerful as Coastal grows. Each runner is given their own personalized training schedule based on past training. To become better prepared for meets, runners can be seen all over campus at any hour of the day.

Not only did Coastal win Big South this year, but we took the Top 5 Positions in the region. This is most definitely an acceptable rate of improvement. Coach Connie and Coach Koster put all of their time and love into the team.

This years Track team was at the top in the Big South Conference. With a new training facility, the track team was able to practice at more convenient times with the lighted track. The track sits on what was a muddy parking lot, just around Chanticleer Drive across from the Wall Building. Much money and hard work went into the construction of the new track. The facility will be used not only by the track team, but by all Coastal students and faculty.

Pass That Ball

The Lady Chants are getting off to a rough start this year. With a 3 and 7 record so far the Lady Chants are still in the rebuilding process. The team is working hard to pull the team up into a top Big South Team. With a lot of hard work they will a great team. Meredith Luebbers, Lori Gray, Jackie Kershaw, Kelly Shutters, Deana Motta, Jamie Davis, Lindsey Blossom, Dori Biagianti, Jamie Wilcox, Nicole Merlo, Janelle Van Acker, Roz Johnson, and Erin Harvell, make up Coastal's great team. Go Lady Chants!

President Ron Ingle

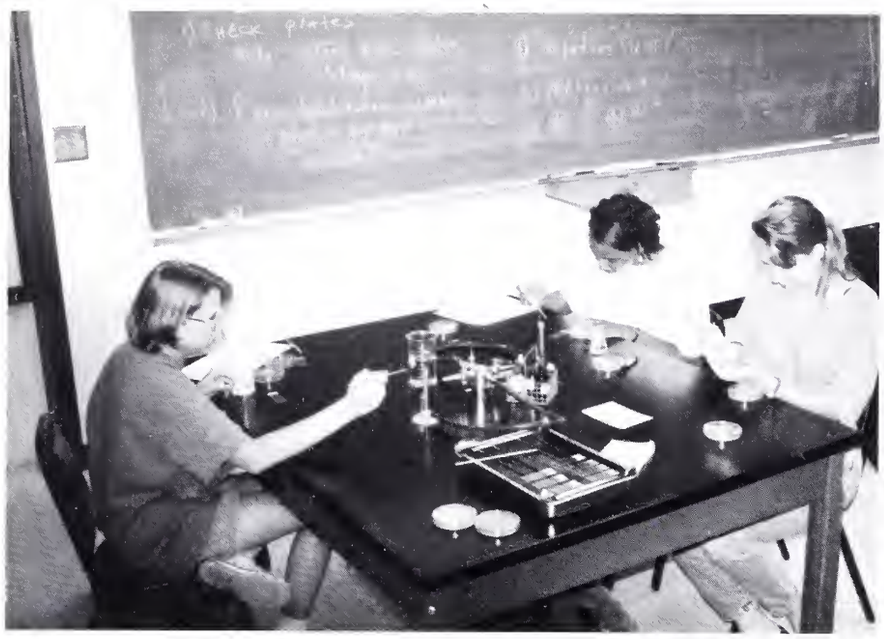
Just a few years ago President Ingle came to Coastal Carolina University. At that time, Coastal was just a college. Things have changed a lot since then, but President Ingle is still eager to improve the campus and make Coastal Carolina University a better place for students, faculty and staff.

A native of Moncks Corner, SC, President Ingle grew up like most of us, just wanting to make the best of his life. After earning degrees in English and History at Woffard College, he served in the Army. President Ingle has been in education since 1964, teaching and doing administrative work in both small and very large schools.

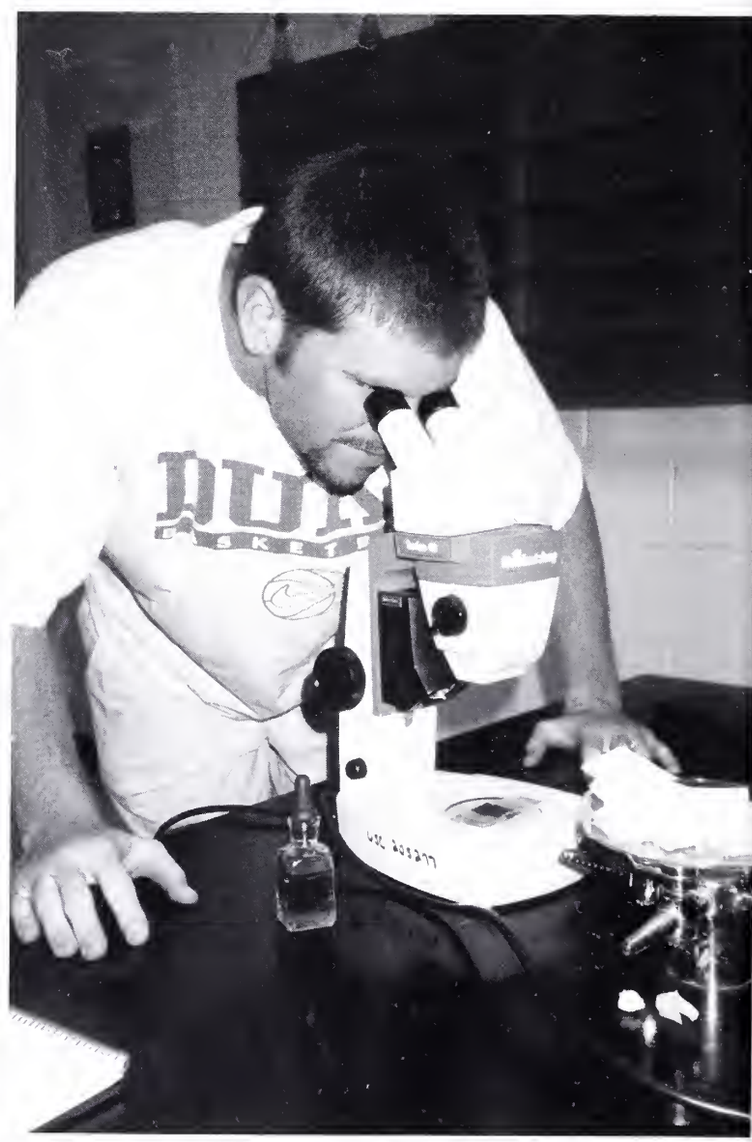
There are hopes of expanding Coastal with the growing number of students Coastal is experiencing. Resident halls are in the works, and ground breaking for a new Humanities Building is being requested for sometime in the next year or so.

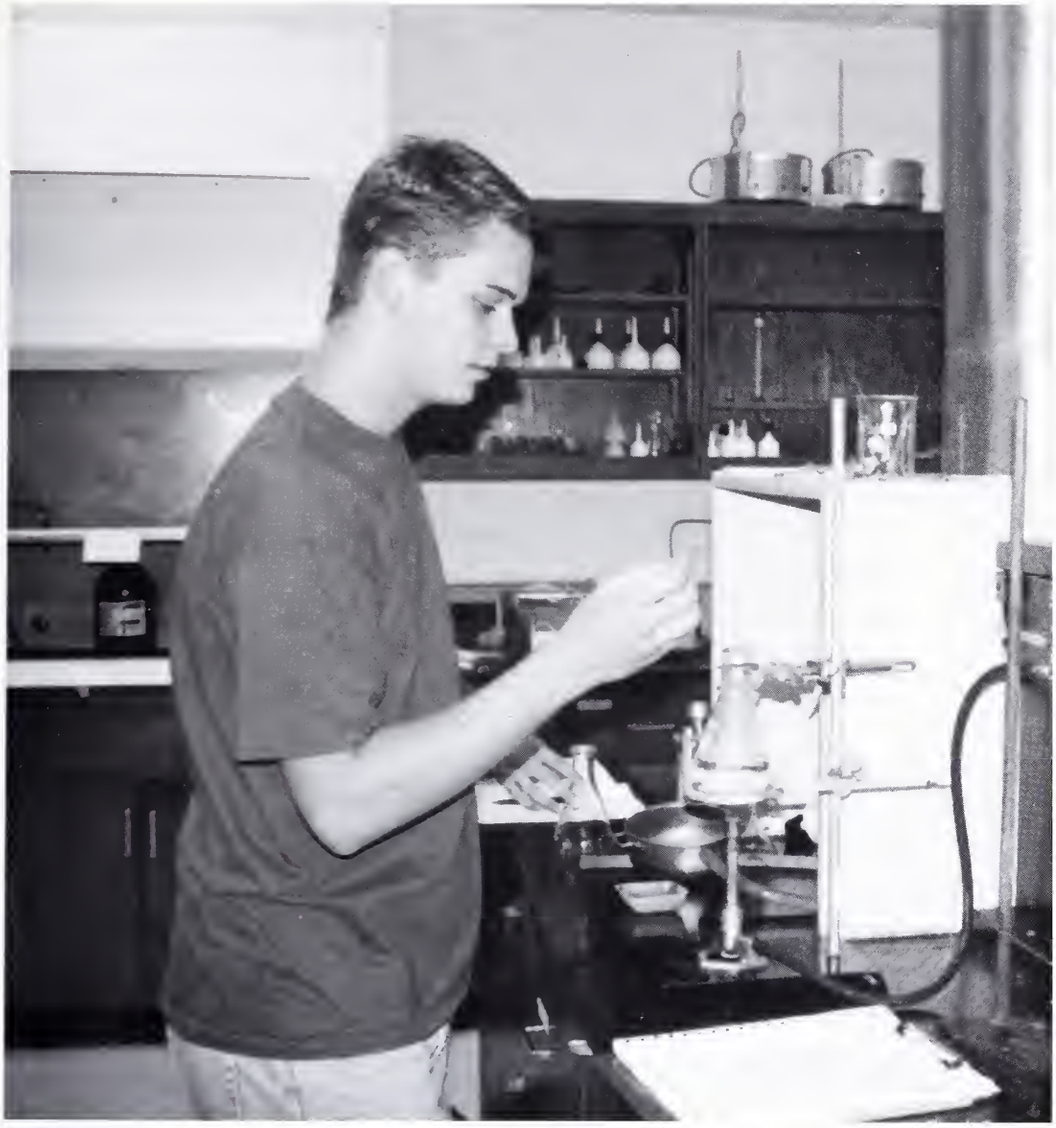
President Ingle was asked to compare the other schools where he served with Coastal, and he replied, "Coastal is wonderful. The students and faculty are great."

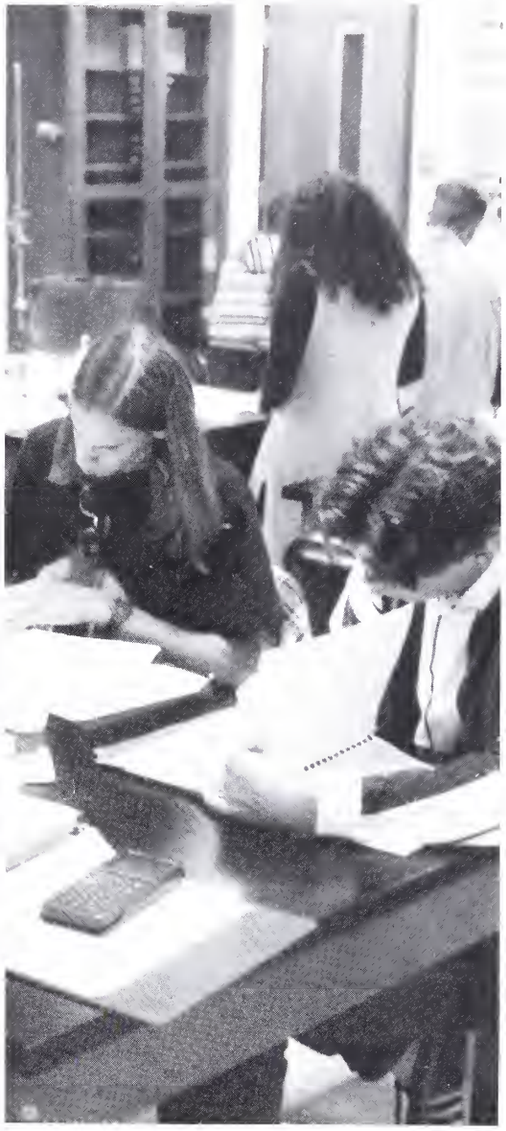
As we all work our way toward graduation and look for advice to help us through, President Ingle gives this advice: "Get involved in your school, and you will succeed in whatever you do." President Ingle shows us that he cares deeply about high quality education.

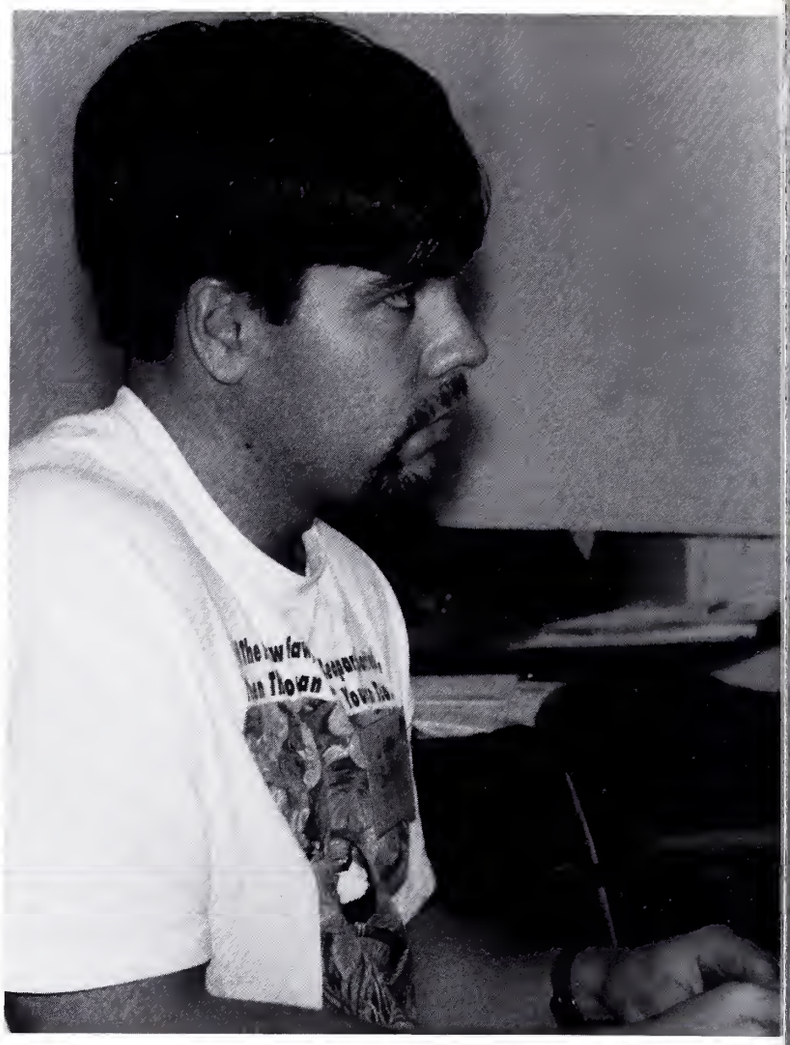


Science Labs









Provost John Idoux

In July of 1994, Dr. Idoux became a part of the Coastal Carolina University family. Dr. Idoux came to Coastal with an open mind and many ideas for the newly independent University.

A graduate of Texas A&M and Ohio State, Dr. Idoux has many insights gained from being at a large school, but he wants to be a part of a smaller university where he can be a part of every student's college experience.

Dr. Idoux believes if Coastal students will take advantage of the smaller class sizes, it will be beneficial to their learning (and possible communication with the instructors.) Coastal is known primarily for its undergrad Liberal Arts background; Dr. Idoux wants Coastal to be known for the faculty and the students.

"Coastal is only successful if the students are successful and want to be here. Real success goes back to the students."

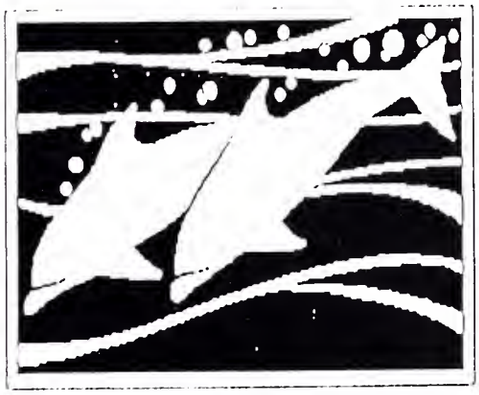
CONGRATULATIONS SENIORS!



With the dream of studying the ocean, I came to Coastal in hopes of one day fulfilling that dream.

I had entered college life scared, homesick, and friendless. Being out of state and having no old friends from home for support, makes it difficult to cope, especially when adjusting to being on your own for the first time.

However, I have found that college life has changed me as a person. I have become more outgoing, spontaneous, and cheerful. While at Coastal, I have met many life-long friends, who I know in my heart will always be there for me, as I will for them. I also jumped right into student activities, where I found my sanctuary. With Coastal Productions, the yearbook, and my sisterhood, Alpha Sigma Alpha, I realize that Coastal is my home and I couldn't imagine being anywhere else.

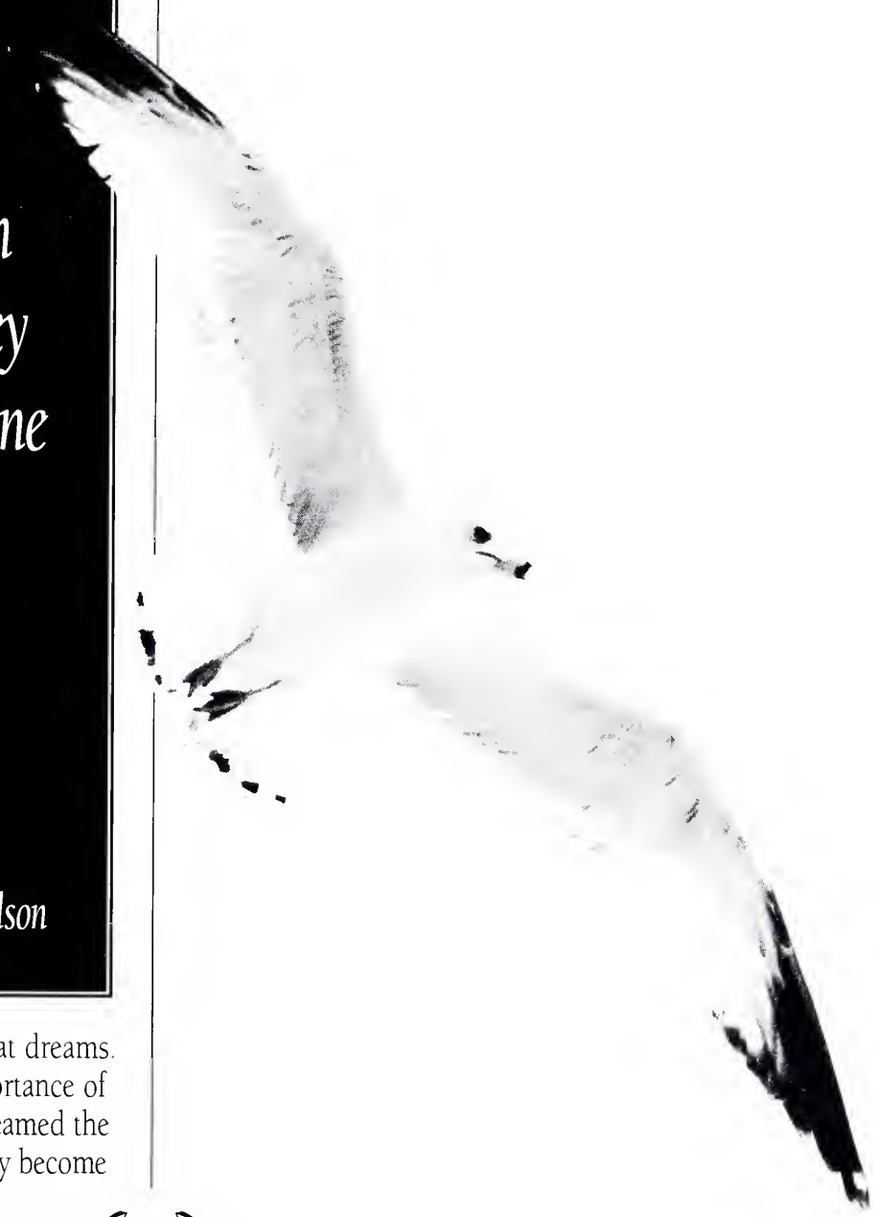
"We grow great by dreams. All big men are dreamers. Some of us let these great dreams die, but others nourish and protect them, nurse them through bad days till they bring them to the sunshine and light which come always to those who sincerely hope that their dreams will come true."

–Woodrow Wilson



Let your imagination soar as you dream great dreams.

At Burroughs & Chapin, we know the importance of dreams. Over a century ago, F.G. Burroughs dreamed the isolated beaches of Horry County would one day become a resort for all to enjoy. We realized his dream.

We hope your dreams for the future take flight and come true.
